BOOK "N" 1976

To the Student Body:

We hope that this edition of our 1976 yearbook will provide many moments of enjoyment for you. The changes in the format were made because we felt they would better capture the memories of this school year in the future. I would like to extend my sincere appreciation to my staff members because without them this yearbook would not have been possible.

Our time

is here,

To say good-bye to the ones so dear.

Friends,

teachers, and lost lovers

Will remain in our hearts

throughout the years.

Our dreams that never came true are fading away,

We must let them go–
They belong to yesterday.

We rushed through the years,

With never a thought it would end like this.

1776-197 you before you go . . .

And remember
today is gone, Tomorrow may never be.

Our time is here,
To say good-bye to the ones
so dear.
Friends, teachers, and
lost lovers
Will remain in our hearts
throughout the years.
Our dreams that never came true are fading away,

We must let them go– They belong to yesterday.
We rushed through the years,
With never a thought it would end like this.
Stop! Look around you before you go . . .
And remember today is gone,
Tomorrow may never be.

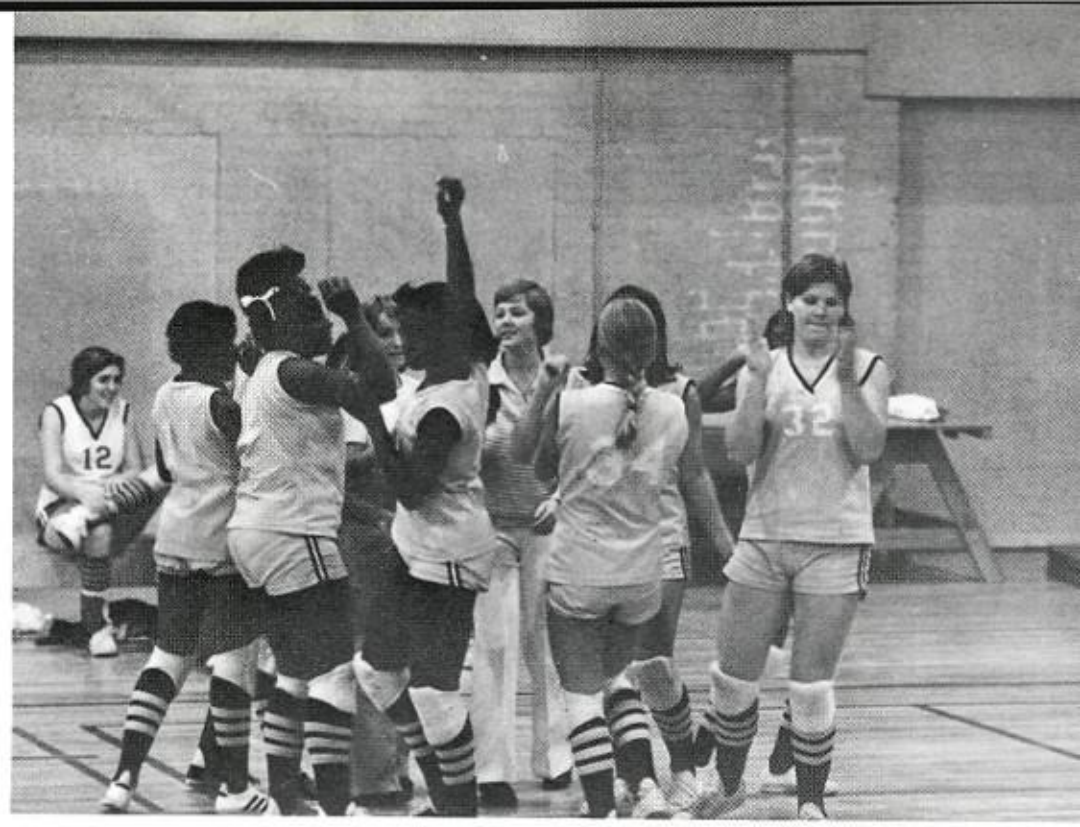
There are many tense moments during varsity volleyball games.

Martha Muckleroy is intent upon her serve.

Prayer before each game is the rule for the volleyball teams.



Coach Guynes gives the varsity team a pep talk at the beginning of each game.

Ava Compton retrives a ball during a tense game.

Judy Griswold's specialty is an unreturnable spike.

The 1975 Volleyball Team was one of the best in the history of NHS. The team became district champions and advanced to regional play-offs. The junior varsity was a promising team to step into the varsity spot in 1976.

Teamwork is necessary and is always evident during games.

. . . . now they are calling us adults; the leaders of tomorrow.

Remember that first day, four years ago when we were all running around asking each other, "have you seen R102?" "No, have you seen T 105?" That was a confusing, but exciting day; we were now in high school. We seemed so small in such a huge atmosphere. The mini-oak tree became our home for in the morning, at lunch, and after school. We dared not go in front of the high school in fear of invading on the upper classmen. The year pushed on and we became more a part of things.

Our sophomore year was a big one. It seemed like everything happened at once. People began to get their licenses and that meant riding to lunch instead of walking. The biggest move was from the peanut gallery to the bottom floor of the auditorium. It was our turn to laugh at the freshmen. There were some "firsts" started our sophomore year. It was the first year for homecoming queen. We also for the first time ever, had our own sophomore picnic. The class of 76 had already begun to show signs of leadership.

The signs of leadership materialized our junior year and all the student council officers were juniors. The year shined bright. It was the first year for a homecoming parade and as a class we got together a float. The end came in focus when we all began to buy our senior rings.

Although our junior year gave us something to be proud of, it nor the others could ever compare to the greatest year of all. This was our last chance to leave a mark on NHS that would never fade away. The bicentennial senior class was certainly to be remembered. We showed great school spirit when our bon-fire was burned down and we rebuilt it even bigger than before in a day. Though a lot of play took place so did a lot of work. For weeks the moans and groans of research papers were heard. After the research papers were through senioritis broke out everywhere. The anticipation of the last days filled all the conversations. However, when that final hour struck, most everyone felt some sorrow of leaving NHS where they had spent the majority of their past four years and had found security in the positions they had made for themselves. At that time the conversation changed from anxiousness to "remember when . . ."

Poet Laureate

Jeffery Jacob Jones

The Traveler

A traveler in time
  Once paused along the way
    At the brink of his prime
To ponder on tomorrow
  And remember a yesterday.

As he reclined,
  And breathed the full breath of his spring
The thoughts of his youthful mind
  Weaved the threads of his past
That to his future would pattern bring.

Triumphs and trials of days gone by
  And thoughts of tomorrow's day
For memories he could only cry
  For tomorrow he could but pray,
    That destiny would yet prove kind.

The path ahead was long and steep
  That led him from here to eternity;
On it led into darkened deep Someday to stop and see
    The very edge of time.

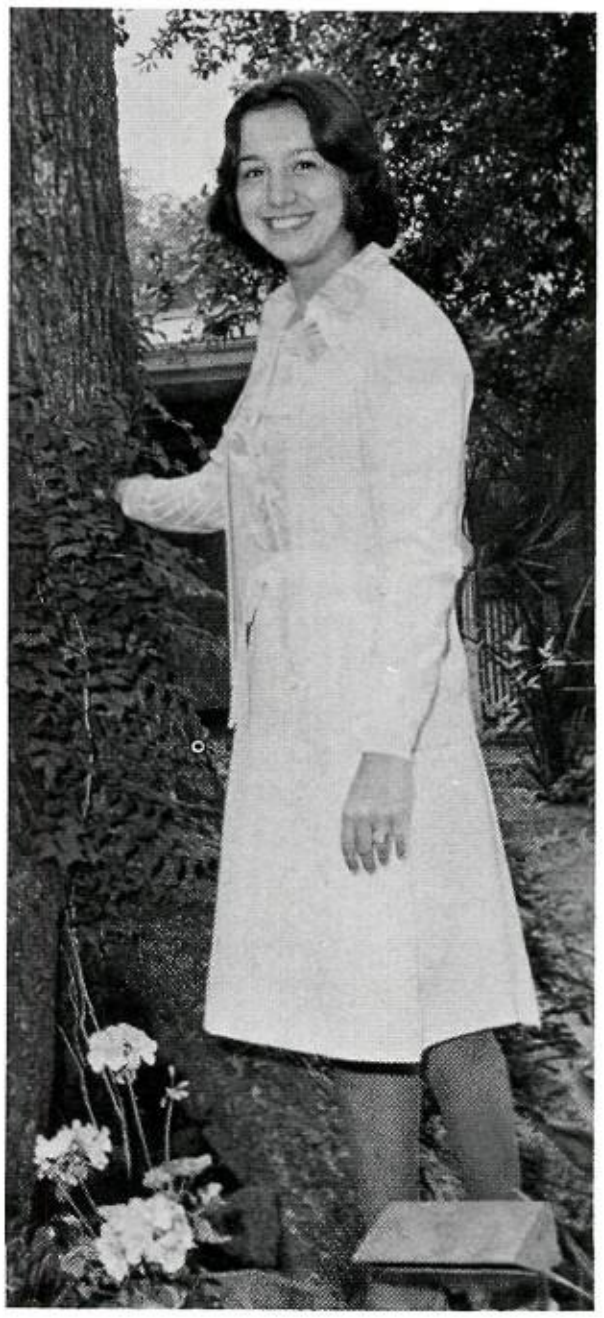
So 'cross his shoulder he flung his dream
  And plucked a hope from a nearby tree,
Thus out across the rushing stream
  That once crossed would find him free,
    To roam to the very ends of his destiny.

by,
Jeffery J. Jones

Who's Who

Lisa Beall's smile and genuine friendliness are two qualities that have endeared her to both students and teachers at NHS. In her untiring efforts as an outstanding cheerleader, she has faithfully supported our Dragons for four years at NHS. In addition to her leadership qualities outside the classroom, Lisa has also written an enviable academic record. With such versatile contributions to her credit, it is fitting that this darkhaired beauty be chosen to receive the coveted title of "Miss NHS."

Nacogdoches High School salutes Tom Driggers, West Point Cadet-To-Be. As he leaves us, we are the richer for having known him. He epitomizes solidarity, congeniality, and scholarship. Furthermore, he shares his talents with all around him. He has consistently and competently represented his school and his peers in competition, with outstanding success in public speaking. His success has been our success.



Dolores Durr is the epitome of the "All American Girl." Her enthusiasm, her fresh, vivacious personality, her school spirit, and her friendliness have brightened the halls of NHS for the past four years. She is outstanding as a leader, as a worker, and as an individual. Her energetic and meticulous efforts as Secretary of the Student Council and her dedicated loyalty as a Varsity Cheerleader is unmatched. She has also maintained an excellant scholastic record. Dolores learned long ago that "They who give, have all things."

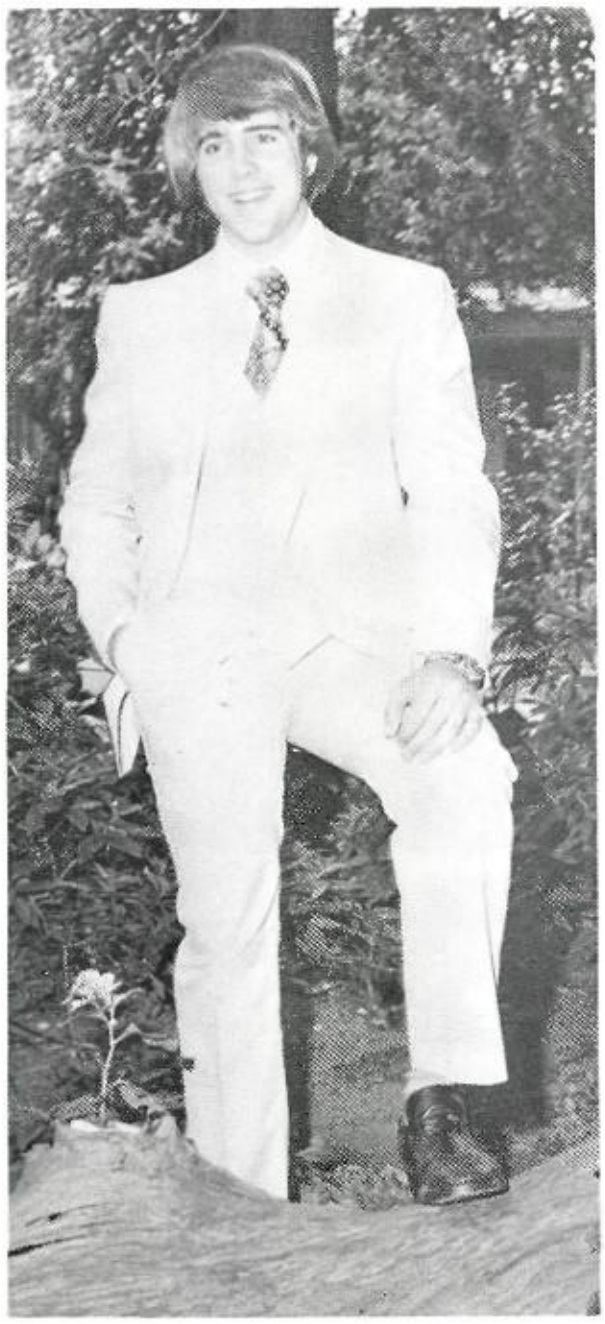
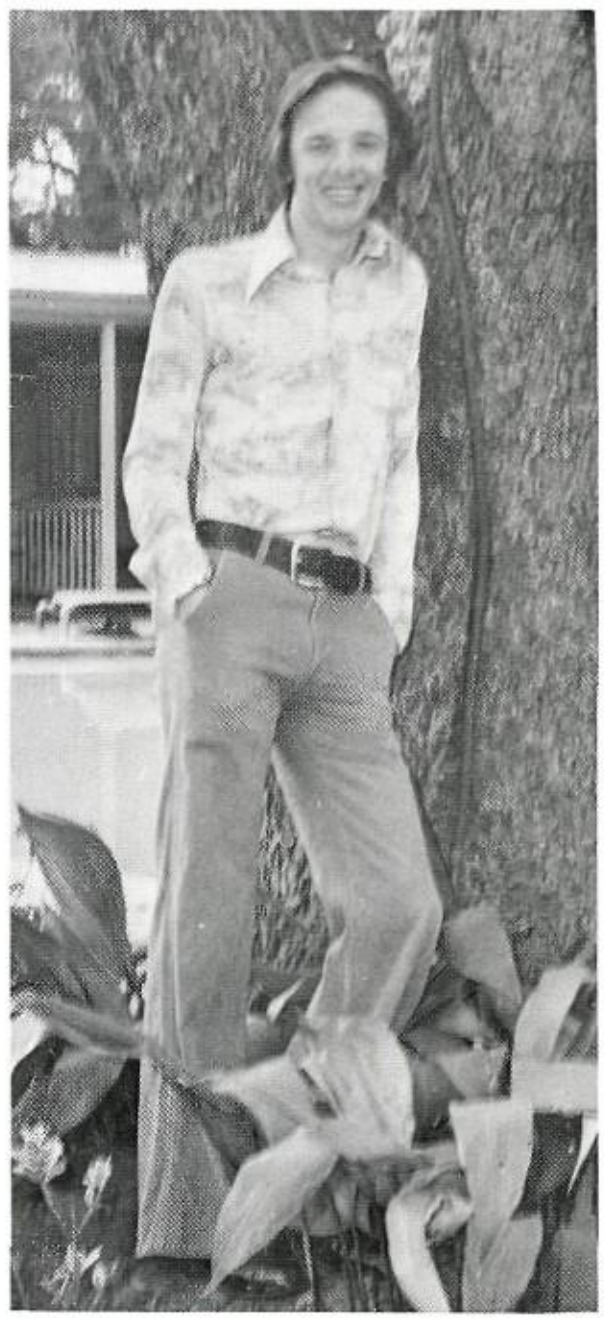
James Ervin will be remembered for his pleasantness, strength of character, cooperative spirit, and willingness to help whenever needed. Though quiet and friendly in manner, James has a record of high achievements academically and has brought honors to himself and his school. He serves in National Honor Society, in Art Club, and as pianist for school activities. It is students like James that give us pleasure now and hope for a brighter future.

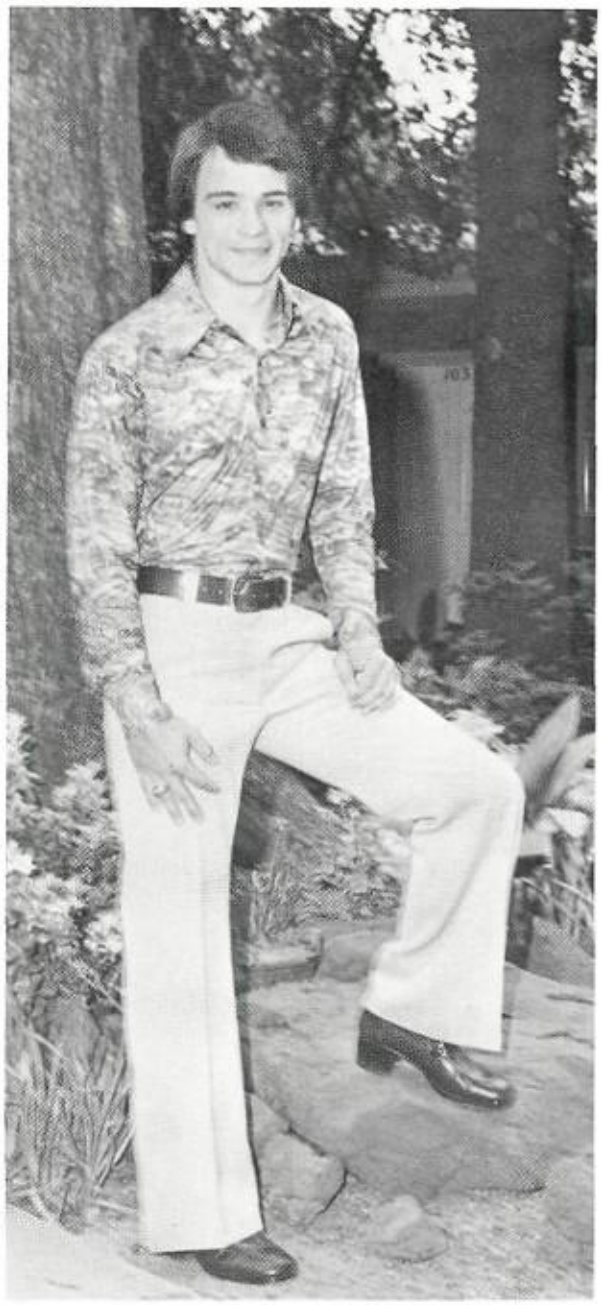


Perry Grimes will be remembered for his sincerity, his friendliness, and for his willingness to serve. He has a ready smile for all, and has endeared himself to both students and teachers. Demonstrating outstanding leadership ability in both school and community affairs, Perry's motto seems to be: "The reward of a thing well done is to have done it." A true gentleman and a scholar, his intelligence, kindness and great talent will lead him toward success in life.



Quiet, unassuming, and talented, that's Kerry Horn. A sincere young man, dedicated to high principles, Kerry has made his mark in the halls of NHS. With his friendly smile and pleasant disposition toward all people, Kerry has carved his niche with students and teachers alike. Service has been given in many ways by Kerry. As a Junior, he served as President of the Student Body. As a Senior he has been President of the Chorale, on the Varsity football team, and Student Council Representative. His fellow students honored him by electing him Mr. NHS this year. He also plays baseball and is an active member of the First Baptist Church. Kerry's future, whether in music or coaching, will combine attributes of honor, integrety, and concern for others.

Who's Who

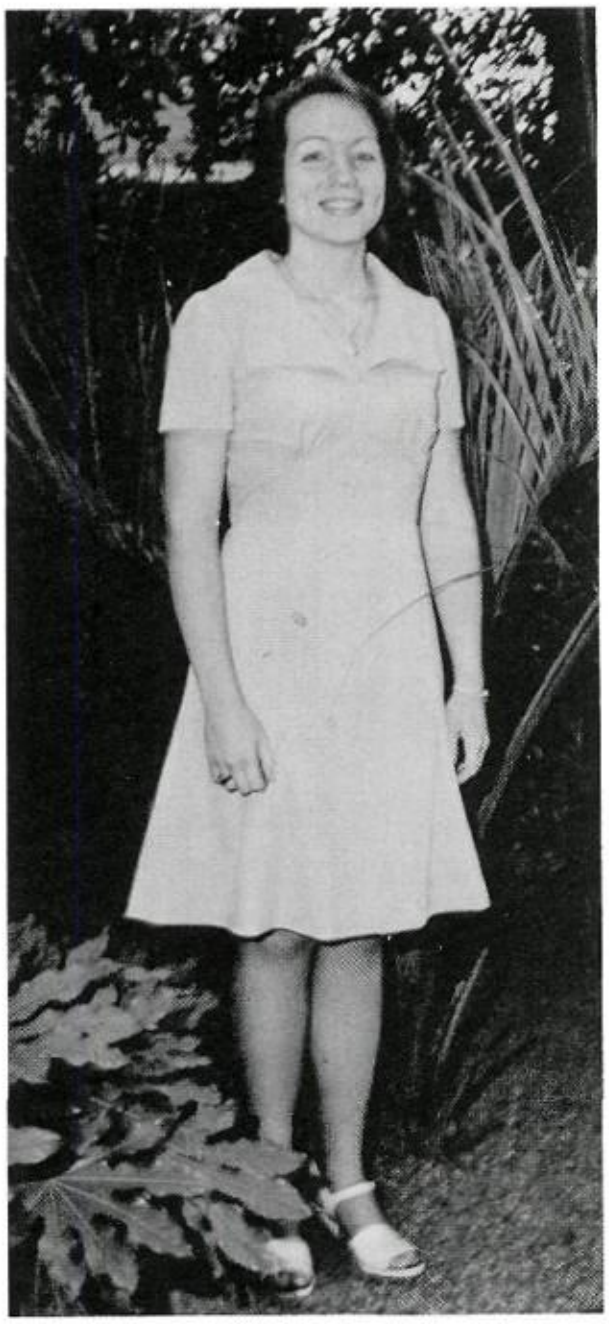


Leadership is the word which best describes Ken Johnson. As president of the Student Body and in many roles in FFA, he has demonstrated that the mark of a good leader is to serve. Ken always gives of himself more than he asks of others. His ability to organize, his insight, and his dependability have characterized him as "the one who can get the job done." Ken tempers his strong productive drive with a deep regard for all those he encounters by always having a sincere word for everyone. Through his hard work and concern he leaves a little of himself everywhere he goes, and in this way NHS will be a brighter place because Ken passed this way. A true gentleman, Ken represents the best of the American spirit.

Vivacious and sparkling are two words which aptly describe this senior who's who, Pam Jurney. Pam's friendly disposition and optimistic outlook combine to make her a pleasant friend and delightful companion. Her boundless energy allows her to make many contributions to her school as she has served this year as book "N" editor, JR. Historian president, Recording Secretary of the National Honor Society, Parliamentarian of the Future Homemakers of America, and V. President of the Chorale. She has also attended SFA on the concurrent program. With High Christian ideals, Pam reflects sincere purpose in her life. She plans to attend Jacksonville Baptist College following her graduation. With her ability to work and enjoy life, Pam is sure to make outstanding contributions there, also.

In the eyes of the faculty and students at NHS, Martha Muckleroy has earned our recognition for her excellence in academics, as exemplified by her selection to the National Honor Society, and in athletics having been selected the district's outstanding volleyball player. For these achievements, Martha has won our praise. And because of her friendly smile, her kindness, her sincerity, and her honest concern, she has won our hearts also. One strange characteristic of the human animal is that he acknowledges as great those things which will pass away. But that which is great in Martha is that which is eternal. She radiates that love which only comes from the indwelling spirit of Jesus Christ, and for this reason, though men may forget her, she is remembered.

Who's Who



Elizabeth Stanly is a person of bubbling personality, quick wit and a willing smile. She enjoys people and is always ready to give herself to be a good leader and one who can also follow. Many people, both students and teachers, have been brightened by her smile and personality. Her intellect, friendliness and sense of humor will greatly help in her chosen field of physical therapy for the handicapped.

Leadership is truly a word to describe senior Eric Wade. Eric has been a friendly addition to the senior class of 1976. Besides serving as president of the senior class, he has served on the staff of the school newspaper and participated on both the football and the baseball teams. Eric truly exemplifies the qualities of scholarship, leadership and service.

If a teacher is lucky a few times in her teaching career, students like Wendy Waters will come along. Talented students often have demands made on them from all areas, home, community, and school. Wendy has managed to meet most of these demands and requests. This necessitates good planning, good judgement and a thorough knowledge of her own capabilities. Because of this, Wendy has been able to work under pressure and contribute much to her school, community and home. During four years in drama Wendy has worked on every production in almost every capacity. She has worked on stage and backstage and has lived the Thespian motto, "Act well your part, therein all the honor lies."

Dear Patron:

As the 1976 Business Manager of the Book "N", I would like to thank you for supporting our annual with your advertising. We used a few new ideas to try to add attractiveness to this section. It is the desire of our staff that you are pleased with your advertisement.

Your advertising has made this annual possible, and it is our hope that you will continue to support us in the future.

Sincerely,

John Colwell

SENIOR CLASS SONG
"Times of Your Life"

Words by BILL LANE

Music by ROGER NICHOLS

Good morning yesterday, You wake up and time has slipped away,
And suddenly its hard to find ____ the memories
you left behind ____ remember.

Do you remember ____ the laughter and the tears,
The shadows of misty yester-years?
The good times and the bad you've seen ____ and all the others in between ____ remember ____
Do you remember the times of your life?

Reach back for the joy and the sorrow, put them away in your mind, for memories are times that you borrow, to spend when you get to tomorrow.
Here comes the setting sun, the seasons are passing one by one ____ so gather moments while you may ____ Collect the dreams you've dreamed today, remember ____
Will you remember the times of your life?

SENIOR CLASS MOTTO

You are a shining star,
No matter who you are,
Shining bright to see,
What your life can truly be.

SENIOR CLASS FLOWER
Yellow Rose

SENIOR CLASS COLORS
